-The Year of Youth Empowerment

Our youth have great capacities. We need to converse with them, listen to their opinions and try to find out how we can help them enhance their potential. They should be guided to analyse the constructive and destructive forces operating in society and recognize the influence these forces have on their thoughts and actions.

It is also important that we help our youth to express their God-given talents and capabilities in service to humanity, focussing on empowering individuals to become agents of constructive social change in our Mohyal community. It is through service to others that one can bring social transformation and change one's life from predominantly self-interest, TO ONE OF SHARING AND CARING FOR OTHERS.

The period of youth is a very special period in one's life. It is characterized by strength and vigour. For any person, his youthful years are those, in which he will make many decisions, which will set the course of his life. In these years, he is most likely to choose his life's work, complete his education, begin to earn his own living, marry, and start to raise his own family. Most important of all, it is during this period that the mind is most questing and the spiritual values that will guide the person's future behaviour are adopted. They have "challenges to overcome the pressures of the world and to provide leadership for theirs and succeeding generations, and tests enabling them to exemplify in their lives the high moral standards".

It is within the power of the youth to contribute significantly in shaping the societies of the coming decades. They have the potential to channel their energy, capabilities and talents towards building a better society and advancement of civilization.

Through effective guidance, our youth can be empowered to override the needs of their lower nature, in keeping with ethical requirements, to control and channelise their natural drives and urges and to transform them into human perfections. Effective education, guidance & mentoring should prepare the youth to act towards the long-term interest of the Mohyal community & humanity, as a whole.

The transformation, which is to occur in the functioning of society, will certainly depend to a great extent, on the effectiveness of the preparations the youth make for the world they will inherit.

Therefore, the forthcoming "Mohyal Youth Conference" is a great step in this direction. The leadership must be congratulated for such an initiative and making a very sound investment in empowerment of the Mohyal youth.

Mohyal Youth Camp-2014 (Under the Aegis of GMS)

The young generation occupies a special place in social environment. It is very much part of society. The young and rising generation constitutes a representative of the future in the broadest sense; the future of any society depends on the practical and spiritual molding of the youth.

Their youthful energy enables them to perform great feats in the theatre of battle; enables them to be the most active transmitters of ideas and skills; their zeal spreads into their surroundings like wild-fire. The youth acts as the motive force of the revolution.

As an integral part of society, the youth section is charged with the specialised task of fulfilling the strategic objectives of the movement with the greater involvement of the youth. It has the responsibility of organising, mobilising and guiding all our youth into participation in the revolutionary struggle of our people.

The youth in our country, like young people everywhere in the world, are searching for genuine ideals and values which they can live by, and for revolutionary ways to win them. Thus the Freedom Charter has become deeply rooted in the hearts of our youth.

In order to galvanise the Mohyal Youth, 'Mohyal Youth Camp' is being organised at Ashram Vihar Complex Vrindavan from the 27th to 29th March, 2014, under the guidance of Rzd. B.D. Bali.

Interested youth may send their names to the GMS Secretariat through the affiliated local sabhas concerned, by the 28th Feb. 2014.

All affiliated local sabhas are requested to send names of maximum number of youth representatives (not exceeding 20) to the GMS Sectt., by the 28th Feb. 2014.

Arrangements have been made for the stay of the youth, reaching Mohyal Ashram Vrindavan Complex (Plot-23, Ashram Vihar, Chhattikra Road, Vrindavan) in the evening/night of the 27th March, 2014. Breakfast is also being arranged on the morning of the 30th March, 2014.

It is reiterated that youth representatives from local sabhas, affiliated with the GMS, only can participate in the camp. This is due to limitation of space.

All young Mohyals may send their names through their affiliated local sabhas at the earliest. For more details, contact:

MOHYAL YOUTH EMPOWERMENT YOUTH MELA 2014

Youth is a phase of life, which is cherished by every one. It generally identifies positive mindset and attitude, appearance & vigour and the age range, that constitutes youth, varies from society to society and culture to culture. Youth is the wealth of any society and it is incumbent upon every one not only to nurture it, but build it into a strong force to face the challenges of life.

Like any others, Mohyal youth also have their imagination, ambitions in life and strong will to make a place for themselves in new horizons. They also have inherent feelings for the community, which have to be developed into a tangible force.

We all agree that our youth are the ultimate wealth of our community and, with a view to involving them in the mainstream, we have been holding Youth Camps, for the last many years. This year, we are holding the Youth Camp at the Ashram Vihar Complex Vrindavan from 27th to 29th March, 2014, and the theme of the Camp has been laid down as "Mohyal Youth Empowerment". We are inviting the youth from all our affiliated sabhas and will discuss various issues concerning the community and try to find solutions and recommend how the community can take a leap forward.

I am also requesting the Presidents and Secretaries of the affiliated local sabhas to make it convenient to join us for the Camp, so that, collectively, we can harness the youth power for the benefit of the community for the future.

The GMS team is working out the programme of the Camp and any suggestions for the success of the Camp be sent to Mr. Yogesh Mehta, Secretary (Youth & Cultural Affairs) at telephone numbers: 9968400800, 9811338000, with a copy to Mr. D.V. Meaning of Possessiveness/ Non-Possessiveness Possessiveness is the feeling of being the owner of things. Not the 'number of things' an individual possesses, but the attitude he harbours towards those things, the way he relates to them, determines his possessiveness.

We display feelings of ownership not only towards things, but even towards people. A husband tries to own his wife; a father, his son and a teacher, his student. Possessiveness is another dimension of violence, because no one can own another -without taking away the other's independence.

Perhaps man tries to make up for lack of authority over himself by ruling others. He wishes to become independent by making others dependent on him. But dependence is on both sides; both parties get tied. We get bound to them because our sense of ownership is dependent on them. If the ones we claim to own leave us, our 'ownership' over them also goes. How can we then be called their owners?

We collect things so that they can serve us but, instead, we end up serving them. Does the Treasure Chest look after us, or do we look after it? We become slaves of such objects, of our own accord. It is our perception that brings about this slavery. The objects are not even aware that humans believe they own them. Desire for things makes you experience bondage. With no desire, you are free.

One, who has no longing to make anyone a slave, and does not wish to own anything or anyone - he alone is a real owner in this world. He alone, whose ownership is not dependent on others, is truly possessive and is truly happy, peaceful, settled and secure. This is the essence of 'aparigraha' or non-possessiveness.

The inner deficiency in us cannot not be filled by the presence of external objects; then can giving them up fill the space? First, you wish to fill the inner chasm by collecting external things, and, having attained them, when you realise that they cannot fill the inner void, you relinquish them. But what cannot be filled with the addition of things will not be filled by subtracting them either.

Non-possessiveness means attaining inner completeness by realising the Self, abiding in the Self. Then, the emptiness within us is filled and the frenzy to collect outer objects ceases. Having experienced inner absoluteness, the desire to either hoard things, or to give them up, vanishes.

When the Self is realized, inner wealth is attained. Then one understands how vain the effort of collecting, or renouncing, outer things is. Once inner completeness is attained, the hold over external things is automatically given up. Realising that it is futile to hold on to anything, one becomes non-possessive.

The meaning of non-possessiveness is not to have the sense of ownership. It means transformation in one's relationship to others. When the sense of ownership wanes, it results in non-possessiveness.

gesture by he sabha President to enable the old and young Mohyal generations to know about our community's glories and the national and patriotic role played by our forefathers.

Lt. Gen. B.K.N. Chhibber enlightened all with the history of Mohyals and their contribution towards Bharat.

Dear Sir,

Towards the end of the year 2012, I and my family had visited Delhi for the treatment of my son, Himanshu Mehta, at Max Hospital, and come back to Tanzania in early 2013.

By God's grace, he is now fine. During our visit, we stayed at the Mohyal Ashram at Inderpuri, and would sincerely wish to extend our thanks to General Mohyal Sabha, in general, under the strong leadership of our great President, B.D. Bali, and his entire team, not forgetting the Manager and other staff of the Inderpuri Ashram.

We had a very comfortable stay there and have no complaints. It is only myself and my family, who can express the assistance we received and we are proud to be Mohyals.

I had also visited my Dadke in Yamuna Nagar, and also Haridwar, where we stayed at the Ashram. When we were leaving India was the time when the Vrindavan Ashram was being opened. Hope we visit there also in our next visit to India.

I would again thank Hon. B.D. Bali for remembering us during our birthdays and marriage anniversaries by sending us best wishes cards and Mohyal Mitter, though we are in a distant country. This proves his great qualities of being a leader of this great community.

I would like to tell the entire team "Keep it up."

Thanking you again,

Yours sincerely,

SIX FACTS ABOUT 'TIME' ONE SHOULD KNOW

First: Nobody can manage time. But you can manage those things that take up time.

Second: Time is expensive. As a matter of fact, 80% of our day is spent on those things or those people that only bring us two percent of our results.

Third: Time is perishable. It cannot be saved for later use.

Fourth: Time is measurable.

Everybody has the same amount of time...Pauper or King. It is not how much time you have; it is how much time you use.

Fifth: Time is irreplaceable. We never make back time once it is gone.

Sixth: Time is priority. You have enough for anything in the world, so long as it ranks high enough among your priorities.

DOCTOR & THE MECHANIC

A mechanic was removing the engine parts from a motor cycle, when he saw a famous heart surgeon in his shop. He called the surgeon and said, "Look at this engine. I opened its heart, took the valves out, repaired and put them back. So why do I get such a small salary and you get such a huge sum?" The doctor smiled at the mechanic and coming close to his ear, said, "Try the same when the engine is running."

YOUNG MAN & THE COUPLE

A 24 year-old man, watching out from the train's window, shouted, "Dad, look, the trees are going behind."

Dad smiled and a young couple sitting nearby looked at the 24 year-old's childish behaviour with pity. Suddenly, he again exclaimed, "Dad, look, the clouds are running with us!"

The couple couldn't resist and said to the old man, "Why don't you take your son to a good doctor?"

The old man smiled and said "I did and we are just coming from the hospital. My son was blind from birth; he just got his eyes today."

Shreeya Sinha Wins 'Deadliner' Award

Ms. Shreeya Sinha has won the prestigious Deadliner Award for her coverage of the obituary of Nelson Mandela. The Citation for the Award reads:

'Shreeya Sinha, a senior staff editor on International, is the winner of the Deadliner Award for December, for her role leading the obituary coverage of Nelson Mandela.'

This was a truly outstanding editing effort across multiple media, on several different platforms. That we were able to prepare ahead of time might have made it smoother; it was no less complicated. The documentation that Shreeya worked on in preparation for the news details not just the mechanics of rolling out a full-blown mini-website with text, photography, video, graphics, social, reader engagement, and interactivity, but it conveys the strategy, editorial planning and timing for web, mobile, apps and social.

When the news came down, on deadline, the rollout of rich, engaging content was flawless thanks to Shreeya's planning and thorough documentation. Her own masterful execution, and on-the-fly troubleshooting was versatile. She worked hand-in-hand with designers, coordinated with graphics editors and managed the flow of video and text. And as the official mourning reached its conclusion, Shreeya worked to showcase our best content in a commemorative magazine on Flipboard.

In television, they have people known as "showrunners," the producers or writers, who are responsible for the operations of a complex creative endeavor and who maintain a show's quality and consistency. For our Mandela coverage, Shreeya ran the show masterfully.'

Shreeya is the grand daughter of Prof. J.S. Bali and the daughter of Anil Sinha (Vaid) and Ms. Lavi Bali Sinha. Prof. J. S. Bali has congratulated her and her parents, for the prestigious award won by her for the excellent, comprehensive and timely coverage of the news of the death of the South African leader Nelson Mandela, for the United States and the world media. All her near and dear ones also rejoiced on her success and are proud of her.

A JOURNEY TO SHREE KATAS RAJ JI IN PAKISTAN

Katas Raj is a temple complex situated on a high ground at Katas near Chakwal in the Punjab (Pak.). It stands as a lustrous jewel in the crown of the Salt Range, which is home to many historical sites, especially those sacred to the Hindus, such as Nalanda, Malot, Tilla Jogia etc. The site dates back to the times of Mahabharata (an epic about events around 8th – 9th century BCE). It is said that the Pandava brothers, the protagonists of the epic, spent a part of their 14-year exile at this place. It is a national heritage site, which has been restored by the government at a cost of Rs. 119 million. It is one of the several Hindu pilgrimage sites in Pakistan. The main attractions in the complex are the Satgarha, a group of seven temples, Shiva temple and a holy pond. The Hindus believe that bathing in the pond, on special occasions, helps attain salvation. According to Hindu legends, Lord Shiva was so stricken by grief on the death of his consort, Sati, that he cried bitterly. His raining eyes created two holy pools – one at Katas and another at Pushkara in Ajmer. According to another tradition, Yudhisthira defeated the Yaksha at this site.

As usual, the Government of Pakistan sponsored the visits to Shree Kataraj Ji in the shape of pilgrimage, (which it has been doing for the last more than 25 years) in the month of December, 2013. The date of the visit was fixed on 18.12.2013. About 120 Hindus from India participated in the visit. 12 of these were from the Mohyal community, i.e., Shri Vipin Mohan, Smt. Veena Chhibber, Smt. Nisha Mehta, and S/Shri Rakesh Mehta, Vijay Mehta, Rakesh Chhibber, Padam Dutta & Manish Bali.

The journey, which started from Yamuna Nagar, by the Shan-e-Punjab, reached Amritsar, on 18.12.2013, evening. The Mohyals were felicitated by Bk. Raj Kumar Chhibber of Putli Bazar, Amritsar, who had made excellent arrangements and had also arranged the serving of a nice dinner, and made their stay comfortable.

On 19.12.2013, we went to Durgayan Mandir to pay our respects to Lord Vishnu & Mata Laxmi, after which we departed for Wagha Border.

On our arrival at the Wagha Border, on the Pakistan territory, the officials of the Pakistan Government welcomed us warmly, served refreshments. We left the Wagha Border and reached Gurdwara Dera Dass, in the heart of Lahore, near Minara Pakistan on the banks of Ravi river, and our stay at the Gurdwara, arranged by the Pakistan Government, was comfortable.

On 20.12.2013, we left for Shree Amar Kund and Shree Kataraj Ji, about 300 kms. from Lahore, by De-luxe buses, which were escorted by commandos. The journey lasted five hours, during which we halted at Behra and Sargodha, for tea etc.

When we reached Shree Kataraj Ji, the District authorities welcomed us warmly. Smt. Veena Chhibber, who is an ex-MLA, was received by the Member of Parliament of Chatwal, Begum Sultana, who felt proud that Smt. Veena Chhibber belonged to District Jhelum in Pakistan. We had a holy dip in Shree Amar Kund, prayed for the departed souls of our forefathers and also paid our obeisance at the great Shiva Temple, which has been there since time immemorial. There is an inscription on stone there, stating that Tirath Shree Kataraj Ji is as sacred as Haridwar. The authorities at Chakwal, especially, the M.P. Smt. Sultana, Dy. Commissioner of Chakwal, and Salary Sahib, Dy. Chairperson of ETPB Board, had, on the request of Shri Vipin Mohan, (President MS Yamuna Nagar) and Shri Shiv Partap Bajaj, Leader of the Jatha, gave permission to Shri Rakesh Mehta, s/o the late Shri Bhagwan Dass Mehta, to visit his ancestral village Durmayal, situated at a stone's throw from Shree Kataraj Ji. Shri Rakesh Mehta was escorted to the village by the police. He was thrilled to see the Gun (Tope), which had been installed in the village by his grand father with the help of other army personnel from the village (about 500 soldiers from this village had taken part in the 2nd World War.). This was the only village in Asia, which was honored by the British, with the presentation of a Gun.

On 22.12.2013, we had a holy dip in the sacred Amar Kund, once again, performed Havan in the Mandir and left for Lahore late in the evening.

On 23.12.2013, we went to the markets of Lahore, viz., Anarkali Bazar, Kishanpura Bazar and Delhi Gate Bazar, for shopping. The hospitality & affection of the shopkeepers and the general public of Pakistan cannot be explained in words. Their conduct and love & affection for Indians is remarkable and, as the language is the same, no one felt that we were in Pakistan.

On 24.12.2013, we were given a warm send-off by the Pakistani authorities at the Wagha Border. The well-mannered attitude of the Pakistani officials brought tears to our eyes and those officials also were emotional at our departure and their eyes were wet. They requested us to come again and again.

–Vipin Mohan, President MS Yamuna Nagar (Haryana)

LIFE AND DEATH

Death must be something extraordinary, as life is. Life is a total thing. Sorrow, pain, anguish, joy, absurd ideas, possession, envy, love, the aching misery of loneliness – all that is life. And to understand death, we must understand the whole life, not just a fragment of it and live with that fragment, as most of us do. In the very understanding of life, there is the understanding of death, because the two are not separate.

"SHAHEED KI MAUT KAUM KI HYAT HAI"

Baba Thakkar, the legendary hero of Kanjur Dattan, was a descendant of Shah Sarup. Straddling on a horse, with rapiers in his hands, he was the perfect picture of a Knight Errand in a rural setting. Once, in a serious stinging battle with the Jats, his head was treacherously chopped off by the opponents and the story goes that the headless body of the gallant warrior, with sword in his hand, went on fighting over a distance of nearly 2.5 miles, till it reached the banks of the river Basantar and fell down there. His admirers built a Samadhi on that spot, which was regularly visited by devoted Mohyals and was the venue of celebrations of Diwali and other community festivals.

Baba Thakkar, the Shaheed, begot four sons, named Veeram, Jitar, Sahdev and Sarang. To honour the memory of the first two, there are villages named after them. Mohyals settled at Gurdaspur have built a memorial shrine to honour the memory of Baba Thakkar. Recently, GMS gave a grant of Rs. 1.50 lakhs for this memorial.

Every year, on "Basant Panchami", a mela is organized at the Samadhi, to seek the Baba's blessings, by thousands of Mohyals, from all nook and corner of the country. Langar is arranged by the devotees, with the association of the District Mohyal Sabha, Gurdaspur; parent body; GMS, also contributes Rs. 10,000/- for the "Prasad", every year.

In the pre-partition times, Mohyal Ratna Ch. Harnam Dass Datt of Kanjur was generous enough to build a room and verandah at the Samadhi and made handsome donations for the Samadhi and for constructing a brick footpath as an approach to the Samadhi. Children's sports used to be held and prizes distributed by him to the winners at Basant Panchmi festivals.
